

THE CITY OF NEW YORK BOROUGH OF THE BRONX COMMUNITY BOARD #5

Honorable Ruben Diaz, Jr., Bronx Borough President

Chairperson Dr. Bola Omotosho

District Manager Xavier Rodriguez

District Needs Statement FY 2012

Bronx Community District 5, known as the West Tremont area, is located in the mid-West Bronx. It is bounded by the Harlem River on the West, in the Cross Bronx Expressway on the South, Webster Avenue on the East, and the northern boundary zigzags from Hall of Fame Terrace at Bronx Community College to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd. and 183rd Street, East to Jerome Avenue and North to Fordham Road.

Bronx Community District 5 is comprised of the following four neighborhoods: South Fordham, University Heights, Morris Heights, and Mount Hope.

Morris Heights is the lowest density area in District 5. Morris Heights is along the western ridge of the district, covering the area from Jerome Avenue valley to the Harlem River Valley. Here, the zoning ranges from R5 (typically 2 and 3-family row houses and small apartment buildings). In addition to the low density development, several high-rise developments including Sedgwick Houses, a NYC Housing Authority Development complex and several large private apartment towers along the Undercliff and Sedgwick Avenues, as well as River Park Towers along the Harlem River.

University Heights is part of the same rock ridge that characterizes most of Morris Heights, and is similar, architecturally. One of the key landmarks in this area is the beautiful Bronx Community College Campus, which gives the neighborhood its name. This public facility is the highest geographic point in New York City. University Heights is the least dense area of the district and benefits from a large proportion of 1-4 family housing stock.

The area East of Jerome Avenue and Fordham Road encompasses two neighborhoods: South Fordham, North of Burnside to Fordham Road, and Mount Hope, South of Burnside Avenue to the Cross Bronx Expressway. Both extend east to Webster Avenue. The Mount Hope/South Fordham neighborhoods are densely populated mostly with five and six-story housing. At the eastern edge of these neighborhoods is a large residential development known as Twin Parks West, consisting of four residential towers.

BCC Campus, McCracken Hall Rms 12 &13 - W. 181st Street & Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. Bronx, New York 10453 Telephone (718) 364-2030 / Facsimile (718) 220-1767/8426 brxcb5@optonline.net At the northern portion of this area is the Fordham Road Shopping District, the third largest generator retail sales in the City of New York. Fordham Road has approximately 1-million square feet of retail space. Separating South Fordham from Mount Hope is the Burnside Avenue Shopping Strip, a strong and vibrant local commercial corridor, and at the South-East area of these areas is a small manufacturing zone, which contains heavy auto uses, small manufacturing shops and warehouses.

The injustice regressive tax policies and shortsighted fiscal practices of local, state and federal administrations, as well as the effects of bad policy and consequent fluctuations in the economy among those directly affects many residents in Bronx Community District 5, in our city. The current Fiscal Year 2011 Budget appears bleak for areas such as District 5 in the Bronx, where the physical and social ills that affect poor and minority communities continue to be most concentrated.

Community District 5 is a severely stressed area. Listed are some of the conditions we face in our neighborhoods.

Department of Homeless Services

While we consistently have opened our arms to the city homeless families by accepting our share, Community Board 5 continues to be saturated with residential care, transitional and a women shelter in our district. In comparison to other community districts we have had more than our fair share and the Community Board request "Zero" allocation.

• The number of Special Needs Housing and Group Homes continues to increase at alarming rate in Bronx Community District 5. Large assortments of charitable and benevolent agencies in the private sector, that are either faith-based or non-denominational not-for-profit (N.F.P), operate Special Needs Housing facilities or Group Homes in the neighborhood. State and municipal agencies of government likewise directly administer community residences or fund private and charitable agencies that do so by means of the "R.F.P."- i.e., "Request for Proposals"- and the public bidding/contracting processes. these facilities serve a variety of populations defined by age, gender, economic class, condition of family life, physical and mental challenges and status vis a vis the criminal justice system.

The brisk expansion in the number of two-family, three-family homes, in the area has facilitated the uninterrupted growth in the quantity of Special Needs Housing and Group Homes. While price so as to defy being even remotely classified as "affordable," this new housing, nevertheless, is well within the means of public and private agencies wishing to establish Special Needs Housing or Group Homes in the district. Of course, houses or vacant parcel of land in more affluent, well-to-do neighborhoods are beyond their reach, thus repeatedly drawing these organizations and government entities back time and again to Bronx Community Board 5 in their search for sites. This circumstance, when coupled with the inability of the Community Board to assert over-saturation of these facilities, has created a most frustrating state of affairs. The deliberate definition of over-saturation in New York State legislation based upon extremely narrow and specific categories guarantees that the tedious prerequisites of over-saturation cannot and will not ever be attained.

Bronx Community Board 5 calls upon our representatives in the New York State Legislature to enact a meaningful, realistic amendment of the state Mental Hygiene Law relative to what constitutes over-saturation of community residences in a neighborhood. A noteworthy suggestion in this regard would be to count on a strictly per capita basis, irrespective of population served, the total number of Special Housing facilities or Group Homes in a district when determining whether or not over-saturation exists in that locality. Moreover, Community Boards should be given an enhanced, authentic role in the site selection process for special needs housing community residences. Community Boards should no longer be reduced to their superficial contemporary condition of only being informed of the launch of this type of facility along with, perhaps, being requested to render an advisory opinion. Finally, state and local government must provide aggressive oversight or the fiscal and procedural operation of these Special Needs Housing facilities or Group Homes. These under-financed facilities are poorly staffed, maintained, and managed too frequently become bad neighbors and nuisances to homeowners and local residents as well as lowering property values.

- Some of the highest crime rates in the City
- Many streets remain overrun by drug-dealing;
- Although Sanitation has improved in Community Board 5 it is still one of the lowest sanitation score rating in the City;
- Very little acres of usable open space for every thousand people; far less than the city average;
- The largest overcrowded school district in the state; large number of schools in very poor physical condition;
- Concentrated and large immigrant population;
- Severe shortage in youth services
- Approximately 49% of households have income below $12,000;
- Approximately 40% of residents pay more than one-third of their income on rent (highest in the city);
- Approximately 61% of housing units are in fair to poor condition with 44.4% of rental housing overcrowded (placing CB 5 third in the City of New York).
- Approximately 14.6% adult unemployment rate (highest in the city);
- Approximately 82% of children born into poor families are children receiving public assistance;
- Over 40% of the population is receiving some form of assistance (poverty rate 3rd highest in the city).
- Community Board 5 ranks the highest in serious housing code violations in the city.
- Subprime home purchase and refinance loans are highest in the city.
- Homeownership rate in CB 5 is one of the lowest in the city.

While much of this is very grim, many positive things are happening to improve the quality of life in some areas of our district. Over one thousand new housing units have been developed which includes 13 new three family homes in University Heights area on Phelan Place and Billingsley Terrace along with six new homes in South Fordham Road area on Valentine Avenue. The Morris Heights section which continues its redevelopment renaissance as the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) works collaboratively with New York City Housing Marketplace initiative to preserve and provide affordable housing with the NYCHA scattered sites, University

Consolidated buildings. Recently, 8 buildings were rehabilitated for a total of 321 additional units. In addition, the Housing Preservation Development has issued a request for proposal to solicit proposals to rehabilitate ten (10) additional University Consolidated buildings consisting of 463 units. Also the Morris Heights Health Center has completed its construction expansion project consisting of 112,000 square foot community facility, providing vital health services and seventy (70) new housing units for seniors. The Harrison Circle project developed on Burnside Avenue, and Harrison Avenue will enhance our second most important commercial strip in Community Board 5. We are also delighted to see the completed construction and operation of the Mount Hope Multicultural Center as well as the new West Clubhouse for Kip Bay Boys & Girls Club that is providing education and recreation services for Community Board 5 Youth. Finally, a new 642 seat elementary-middle school on Macombs Road & University Avenue is scheduled for opening in September 2010. Lastly, Community Board 5 continues to encourage St. Barnabas Hospital's development of a new 10 story building Primary Care Out-Patient Facility consisting of approximately 90,000 square feet with indoor staff parking and community meeting room, that will provide expansion of medical services and future employment for Community Board 5 residents.

While community is delighted with its recent development, our district infrastructure is in a fragile state. Therefore, the board wants the city to be mindful that increase development must be accompanied by additional resources and infrastructure improvements in order to address our devastating needs. As advocates for our community, we will continue seeking specific funding in the areas of recreation, parks library, youth services, and education.

In this regard, it is essential to the district's well-being that the Mayor's Budget reflected funding for Community Board 5 District in the following areas of priority:

1) Department of Transportation:

- Creation of a Step Street Task Force (Community Board #5 has approximately 14 Steps Streets in its district).
- Continuation of Jerome Avenue Transportation Study
- Resurfacing of the Grand Concourse from 175th to Fordham Road.

2) Department of Parks & Recreation:

- Improvement of the Aqueduct walkway providing connection at Burnside Avenue Pedestrian Bridge or Step Streets to Morton Place Playground.
- Increase in budget allocation for the hiring of additional PEP officers;
- Increase in budget for the construction of additional neighborhood Playgrounds and recreation aides, as identified by CB 5 and residents;
- Development of depot place along the Harlem River creating access to the Roberto Clemente State Park Waterfront esplanade, access for the residents of CB 4, CB 5 and CB 7.

3) City University of New York:

• Increase funding to CUNY schools (Hostos Community College, Lehman College and Bronx Community College located in CB 5 is one of the major learning institutions in the Bronx, therefore it is imperative that services are maintained to continue providing quality Education to the less advantaged).

4) Department of Youth & Community Development:

• Increase in Youth funding services and Summer Youth Employment.

5) Department of Business Services:

• Increase funding for the creation of the merchant's associations/BID planning funds for University Avenue/West Tremont Avenue & Featherbed Lane, as well as Burnside Avenue.

6) New York City Board of Education:

• Increase funding for new construction and infrastructure development of our schools in CB 5 school district 9 & 10.

7) Department of the Aging:

The elderly population in our district continues to increase. We are requesting that the city provides for the special needs of our seniors especially for the recent seniors which require services that will keep them active. Community Board 5 is requesting that long range planning include housing, health and mental care, home care and senior centers. With this approach Community Board 5 feels we can continue their quality of life and prevent the isolation which many of our elderly are at risk for poor health and unacceptable living conditions as well as poor nutrition.

- Increase funding for the improvement of senior citizens' facilities in Community Board 5.
- Increase funding for senior housing
- Increase funding for innovative senior programs in Community Board District 5

8) NYC Police Department:

• Acquire and construct a new 46th Precinct with parking facilities;

Additionally, listed are areas where the budget responses from the agencies once again fall short of need. It is noteworthy, that while many of these capital and expense budget requests have in some form received favorable responses and approval, the actual implementation of capital and expense projects continues to remain idle to lack of effective coordination and communication among the appropriate city agencies. It is imperative that agencies become more responsive in the implementation of these capital and expense projects, which are constraints to the community residents.

Fire Prevention/Education -- New York City Fire Department

- Increase funding for fire safety houses, medical kits for each Engine Company, the Juvenile fire setters program, and fatal fire teams.
- Increase for carbon monoxide alarms.

Additionally, it is imperative that the Executive Budget maintains resources to the New York City Public Library Branches to allocate for additional materials, increase in staff and exterior renovations, and maintenance for extended library hours.

It is also vitally important to recognize that Economic Development in Bronx Community District 5 is a priority, especially since the district is comprised of three major commercial strips such as Fordham Road, Burnside Avenue, and West Tremont Shopping areas. In this district, with such a high level of unemployment rate, the need for commercial revitalization and community involvement is of the utmost important. The creation of Business Improvement District is a mechanism to improve conditions in our neighborhoods and brings a sense of pride and ownership to local merchants. We continue to support community and business collaborations.

Finally, Community Boards are indeed the link to the city. In this regard, Community Board 5 continues to advocate for the increase in Community Boards operating budgets, allowing for further strengthening and improvement in the delivery of services to communities at large. Equally important, are the obligations mandated to Community Boards by the New York City charter, which includes the development of a 197-A plan for each community district. Community Board 5 recognizes the significance and contribution that a 197-A Community Development Plan affords a district, specifically in preparation for future capital and expense budget requests. Bronx Community Board 5 continues to be engaged in a planning process for the future development and preservation of its neighborhoods. In the last decade, this part of the mid-west Bronx, known as West Tremont, has seen the development of new and rehabilitated housing, the opening of regional shopping centers, some improvements to schools and community facilities, and increasing signs of community organization to improve commercial and retail strips. Nevertheless, there are still many more challenges facing the people living and working in the vibrant neighborhoods of Mount Hope, Morris Heights, University Heights and South Fordham. In addition the Community Board has continued to identify quality-of-life issues relating to safety, service delivery and effective programs for both its youngest and oldest residents. As the Community Board begins to work with its consultant planner and government agencies to develop its plans for the district, the Board recognizes that full citizen participation is essential. To facilitate deeper community involvement, Community Board 5 has initiated a "Visioning Process" for leaders and citizens working together to develop shared goals, objectives and strategies to fulfill their hopes for the future of their community. We therefore, wholeheartedly, urge that the City of New York to allocate to each of the 59 Community Development Boards for the planning and implementation of a 197-A Community Development Plan, which is a very costly and time-consuming process.

Community District 5, in echoing the sentiments of a community at large, understands that the budget development process has never been a painless exercise. We are deeply concerned, however, that the most vulnerable – children, senior citizens, and poor people are forced to bear a disproportionate share of the pain. At a time when the city is in an economic downturn, we must insist that our community basic's needs are not sacrificed in an attempt to seek a balance budget in the outer years. Our city government must examine means to improve its efficiency without being mean-spirited. We are certain that with a proper revisit to these issues, the City of New York could find ways to maintain and secure a respectable quality of life for all of our citizens. Community's District 5 priorities remain a reflection of economic and community development, improvement of quality of life issues and most importantly, services to the future of our city youths.

Respectfully submitted,
